

PEMBROKE COLLEGE, OXFORD

College Lectureships in Law (Jurisprudence): Leave cover

Further Particulars

Subject	Law: Criminal Law You will be required to teach Criminal Law to first year students. You will provide an average of six hours teaching per week during the eight weeks of Michaelmas Term 2023, and set and mark internal college exams at the start of Hilary Term 2024. You will also be expected to participate in the College's undergraduate Admissions process in December. All of our teaching is in small groups (usually tutorials of two students and classes of around six). This is a part-time role.
College fellows	Prof Rebecca Williams, Prof Ariel Ezrachi, Prof Sandra Fredman
Period of appointment	1 October 2023 to 31 January 2024
Duties	You will be involved in the teaching, academic administration and pastoral care of Pembroke's Law students. This will include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Delivering the teaching of Pembroke College undergraduates in the relevant subjects.</li><li>• Setting and marking Collections (internal College exams) to a deadline in 2nd week of term.</li><li>• Writing end of term reports on the performance of your undergraduates using the web-based system.</li><li>• Liaising as required with other Fellows and Lecturers in the subject, as regards the teaching of your undergraduates and with other College staff about addressing any pastoral problems which may arise amongst your students.</li><li>• Participating in termly student review meetings and attending the Master's Academic Review for undergraduates in your subject.</li><li>• Participating in the annual undergraduate admissions exercise.</li><li>• Taking part in College open days and any other access activities in your subject area.</li><li>• Attending College events for undergraduates and graduates and entertaining the students in your subject as organised within that subject.</li></ul>
Salary	The salary for the teaching will be in the range of £4,727- £5,558 for six hours teaching in one academic term, depending on experience and qualifications.

Other benefits	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• An entitlement to take a number of lunches or dinners in college per week</li> <li>• Membership of USS pension scheme</li> <li>• A personal teaching allowance of £112.50p.a.</li> <li>• Use of a teaching room in Pembroke</li> </ul>
Selection criteria	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• In possession of a doctorate degree in Law or in at least the second year of doctoral study.</li> <li>• Relevant teaching experience and ability to teach the paper listed above.</li> <li>• Willing and able to undertake the administrative and pastoral duties set out above.</li> </ul>
How to apply	Please submit an electronic copy of your CV and covering letter to the Academic Office (academichr@pmb.ox.ac.uk) by 4th August 2023. Please ask two referees to send references to the same address by the same deadline, commenting on the selection criteria above. The interviews are planned to be held in the week commencing 28th August.
About Pembroke College	Pembroke College was founded in 1624 and occupies attractive buildings in central Oxford. Pembroke College is committed to maintaining a vibrant scholarly community combining excellence in teaching and internationally recognised research. The college has a warm and welcoming atmosphere and is home to a dynamic group of early career academics across the disciplines. The Master is The Rt Hon Sir Ernest Ryder, formerly Senior President of Tribunals and a Lord Justice of Appeal. From William Blackstone to the current Lord Chief Justice, Sir Ian Burnett, Pembroke College has always had a proud tradition of leadership in law education, research and practice, retaining the best of the Oxford legal tradition while combining it with cutting edge research into issues such as law and technology. The college hosts the prestigious annual Blackstone Lecture. The College has an undergraduate body of about 350, around 200 graduates, and 30 Visiting Students. The College admits between 5 and 7 undergraduates a year to read Law (Jurisprudence), including students on the Law with Law Studies in Europe course and 2nd BA students. We offer two fully funded DPhil scholarships in Law and the scholarship holders are part of the teaching community in college.
Right to work	Appointment to this post is dependent on the candidate demonstrating that they have the right to work in the UK. At all times your employment is subject to the provision of original documentation to establish your right to work and remain in the UK, which the College requires in order to comply with its duties under the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006. It will remain your responsibility to ensure that you are able to produce such documentation as and when requested from you. This role will not attract sufficient points to obtain a sponsored visa under the points based immigration system, however applications are welcome from candidates who do not currently have the right to work in the UK, but who would be eligible to obtain a visa via another route.